Subject: CAASPP--Digital Library Self-Registration Interface

Measuring the Power of Learning.™

Dear CAASPP Test Administrator or Test Examiner:

This e-mail is a reminder that the Digital Library self-registration interface is available for you to use to establish a Digital Library account in just minutes!

To establish an account through the self-registration interface, go to the Digital Library login Web page and select the [Register for the Digital Library] button. To reset a password for an existing account, select the [Forgot Your Password?] link. For detailed, step-by-step instructions, see the How to Self Register for the Smarter Balanced Digital Library | Quick Reference Guide.

Important notes:

- When you request a new Digital Library account, your e-mail domain name is used to verify your association with a local educational agency (LEA). If your work e-mail address has a non-LEA-specific e-mail domain (e.g., gmail.com, yahoo.com), you will need to work with your CAASPP test site coordinator or your LEA CAASPP coordinator to establish a Digital Library account.
- Password resets can be completed by any Digital Library user with an existing account, regardless of e-mail domain name.

The Digital Library is available to all California LEA staff, so we encourage you to share this e-mail with colleagues who may be interested in establishing an account. Questions about the self-registration interface should be directed to your CAASPP test site coordinator.

Sincerely,

California Technical Assistance Center
