Subject: CAASPP--Register for the Summer Institute, 2019 Series!

Measuring the Power of Learning.™

Dear Educator:

The Summer Institute 2019—Analyzing Student Work and Using the Interim and Digital Library Systems to Inform Teaching and Learning—is a two-day, in-person, professional development opportunity intended for classroom teachers, instructional coaches, and teachers on special assignment in kindergarten through grade twelve.

The workshop will focus on the following objectives:

- Understand the purpose of different types of assessment and how they work together to support learning
- Understand the design of Smarter Balanced Interim Assessment items aligned with college- and career-ready standards and use evidence-based scoring to analyze student responses (i.e., hand scoring)
- Know how to use interim assessment and Digital Library systems, including accessibility features
- Understand the value of and connection between the systems in improving teaching and learning

Educators from the same school and local educational agency (LEA) are strongly encouraged to attend as teams and divide participation between the English language arts/literacy and mathematics content areas. Administrators may also find this training useful to inform their support of classroom teachers.
